

Senior Spotlight: Paige Marie Watson

Written by Betsy Blevins

Thursday, 14 April 2011 11:29 -

April 7, 2011 - Paige Marie Watson is the 18-year-old daughter of James Clifford and Sheri Kay Watson. Paige is a member of the Leonard Church of Christ and has attended Leonard schools thirteen years.

In school, Watson has been active in Jazz Band two years, BETA Club four years, Art two years, Gifted & Talented since elementary and she plays drums for the band, Avoid the Sky.

Her favorites are as follows: food, Italian or Asian; drink, tea; color, turquoise; place, Austin (not for football, though); movie, Almost Famous; male musician, Joel Piper; female musician, Jess Bowen; band, We Came as Romans; music genre, Melodic Hardcore; song, You're All I See by The Word Alive; people, Tylar Brown, Marissa Kuntz and Cody Mitchell; book, The Perks of Being a Wallflower; and sport, playing the drums.

Paige's favorite thing or memory at LHS is all the crazy times with Jordan and Marissa in Mr. Phifer's class. She advises underclassmen "Yield to upperclassmen, but don't let them put you down. You'll be there sooner than you think." She likes to play shows with Avoid the Sky and go to shows in her free time.

When asked, If you could do anything, she said be a successful, touring musician RIGHT NOW. If she could change anything, she would stop verbal abuse, bullying and labeling in public schools. Her pet peeve is people with a negative vocabulary.

Senior Spotlight: Paige Marie Watson

Written by Betsy Blevins

Thursday, 14 April 2011 11:29 -

After Paige graduates high school, she plans on getting her Associates Degree in commercial music at Collin College, then get her Masters in Business at UT Dallas and becoming a music producer as her main job, but also promoting bands and concerts, etc.