

St. George daughter accepted to Oxford

Written by Betsy Blevins

Thursday, 14 April 2011 11:40 -

April 7, 2011 - This fall, Ina St. George, daughter of Philip and Myrna St. George of Trenton, will journey to England to complete her Doctorate degree at Oxford University. St. George was notified this week of her acceptance to Oxford. Ina received her Bachelor degree from The University of Texas at Austin, and a Master of Arts, as well as a Master of Science degree from The University College of London. Both Master degrees are in the field of Museum Conservation.

Her studies have taken St. George to Belize, the Normandy coast, Egypt, Turkey, and many parts of England. She recently was with a team of conservators who completed a restoration of a painted ceiling in the Executive Office Building (adjacent to the White House) in Washington D.C. She also taught English as a Second Language in the Czech Republic for a year. Her doctoral thesis will be a continuation of the work she did while in Turkey.

Ina is the granddaughter of Billie and the late Sam Dixon, and the late Dorothy and Warren St. George all of Oklahoma City.