From the Jan. 27, 1961 edition of The Leonard Graphic:

Farmers Barbecue Huge Success

Approximately 85 farmers and Leonard Chamber of Commerce members attended the farmers barbecue and meeting in the school cafeteria, sponsored by the chamber.

This is the second year the Chamber has sponsored such a program. With such success as the Monday night program proved to be, it appears this will become an annual affair.

After a delicious barbecue dinner, Chamber President Tom Hymer introduced Fannin County Agent Gene Graves. After a short talk, Mr. Graves turned the meeting over to Charley Spence, Extension Agronomist, of Denton. Mr. Spence showed slides of grain sorghum and cotton, explaining the various effects of fertilizer on these crops. He also led a discussion on proper and improper use of fertilizer, answering questions of various nature.

Favorable expressions and comments have been made since the meeting which attracted guests from Bailey, Randolph, Blue Ridge, Trenton, Bonham, Wolfe City and Leonard. Apparently much good will result from this meeting.

A number of area farmers increased their crop yield considerably by the use of fertilizer since a similar meeting last year. The lowest wheat yields reported were 7 to 9 bushels per acre on unfertilized fields. In comparison the yield of properly fertilized fields was 37.5 to 42.5 bushels per acre.

Mr. Hymer commended the food committee for a splendid job in securing the barbecue and all
