

June 16, 2011 - The Texas-New Mexico Power Company location in Leonard has recently undergone some updating. The project included a new roof on the building, complete remodel on the inside, the construction of a covered garage for the company trucks, and - at present - new concrete is being poured in sections, as the budget allows, to cover all of the existing gravel. - Ava Barlow staff photo